

The Scotland we want babies, children, young people and families to experience

Every child grows up loved, safe, and respected, to realise their full potential

Wellbeing =
Safe
Healthy
Achieving Nurtured
Active
Responsible
Respected
Included

My Wider World

What I Need from the People who Look After Me

How I Grow and Develop

Child poverty and inequality are eradicated, with family income optimised and available economic opportunities

Climate change is addressed, with impacts mitigated and natural resources protected and cared for

Families live in high quality accessible environments with greenspace and local community resources/services which meet their needs

Communities are inclusive and safe, with supportive networks strengthened through innovation and partnership

Children and families are digitally included through skills, equipment and community connectivity

Families live in affordable, suitable and sustainable housing and have access to affordable and sustainable transport

Families have supportive antenatal and postnatal services through the early years so babies and children have the best start in life

Families are supported to love, nurture, and be responsive to their babies and children

Loving care and support is provided for children who cannot be safely looked after at home with important relationships maintained

Preventative and early whole family support is provided when needed, as long as is needed, with intensive support for complex needs

Children are safe from abuse and neglect, with support for families to recover from adversity and trauma

Children experience youth justice as trauma-informed, child-centred and rights-based

Babies, children and young people experience positive relationships with family, friends and those who support them

Children have opportunities to participate and have their views taken into account at home, school and their community

Children and young people receive good nutrition from birth and have active lifestyles

Babies, children and young people have good mental wellbeing and mental health

From pre-birth through to young adulthood babies and children get high quality, person-centred healthcare

Babies and children get high quality, child-centred early learning and childcare

Children and young people have opportunities to play, spend time with friends, and enjoy hobbies

Children and young people have inclusive educational experiences rooted in excellence and equity

Young people are supported through transitions to adulthood, with opportunities for learning and work